On behalf of the committees, The Greater Hartford Club of the Deaf, Inc., often called, "The Deaf Yankees Dynasty" due to winning 23 New England Athletic Association of the Deaf Softball Championships out of 36 years (with one year out because of rainy weather) welcomes you all attending the 14th Annual Men's and 3rd Annual Women's Slo-Pitch Softball tournament here in Hartford. Our organization is proud to be the first deaf club in New England to host a national deaf slo-pitch softball tournament.

I hope that your stay here will be a most memorable one. I am sure that you will find Hartford to be an exciting city with strong ties to the past, especially to deaf history through the American School for the Deaf!

At this time, I would like to recognize and thank the city of Hartford and the Town of Avon, as well as other local businesses, who helped to make our tournament a pleasant one for everyone.

Once again, enjoy your stay and have a safe trip back home.

Respectfully yours,

As for The Softball Players, I wish you all the best lucks in The Tournament. I think you guys are gonna need it just in case something goes Pfffft!. Hey! Guys, I don't mean no harms.

Let's make your memories enjoyable ones so that you may take those memories home with you wherever you go, you will only remember all the good times you had in Hartford, Conn.

Greetings to One and All:

Yet another AAAD national tournament has rolled around--it being the 14th Annual Men's and 3rd Annual Women's Slo-Pitch Softball Tournaments. Whatever doubts the deaf sports community has had in the past can forever be erased for soft-ball tournaments are solidly entrenched in the AAAD annals. May the best teams in this 33 team tournament, the total in both the men's and women's divisions, emerge victorious. For the first time ever, there will be an international flavor in the games--Canadian Deaf Sports Association (CDSA) All-Star representatives will be participating in the men's tournament. There lies a possibility of including a women's team from Canada in the near future.

Hartford is not St. Louis, Atlanta, nor Dallas, population wise; however, the city probably has more to showcase, since it has an interesting past and there are many historical treasures. Time permitting, one should make an effort to take in the sights in this capital city and the largest city of Connecticut. The local Committee, headed by Dennis Palka, is to be commended for assuming a heavy responsibility in hosting the annual national tournament. Rest assured that the annual event will be carried out flawlessly by a group of dedicated people--our hats are off to you in advance.

Last, but not least, enjoy the weekend and have a safe return trip home...and then it will be Phoe-nix for basketball in April '90, and Tucson for softball in '91.

Welcome to the fabulous city of Hartford and to the 14th Annual AAAD National Men's Slo-Pitch Softball Tournament and the 3rd Annual AAAD National Women's Slo-Pitch Softball Tournament.

Our very deep appreciation goes to the Greater Hartford Club of the Deaf, Inc. who has given us a great privilege of holding this softball tournament in a city where Laurent Leclerc had an excellent start a big avenue for the deaf people to prove themselves as highly useful citizens on equal basis with the normally-hearing citizens in many, many streets of successful careers, professions, leadership, and etc.

Chairperson Dennis Palka and his hard-working committee have taken care to see that planning this tournament for your enjoyment will be well-remembered for years to come.

Hartford is a great place to meet old and new friends as well as an excellent ground for historic places and points to be observed. I am assured that Laurent Leclerc would love be there to greet all of us and join us in sharing opportunities to make the AAAD tournament a lasting success in Hartford.

May the best team win and above of all, say you show your sportsmanship conduct on and off the fieldsy no matter you win or lose the games.

Have a pleasure and enjoyable memory and a safe journey home!

Warmest Greetings to all those attending the 14th Annual Men's/3rd Annual Women's

AAAD National Softball Tournament

Welcome to beautiful New England, especially in the gorgeous fall weather (hopefully) and scenery of Connecticut.

I am sure everyone will enjoy the games and the mingling of old and new friends. To Dennis Palka and his hard-working committee--may the tournament be a successful and profitable endevror for Greater Hartford Club of the Deaf!

Will we see a new national men's champioew will Revolinski's Reds go for a third straight title? Will the older, but wiser MVAD women prevail? Will new and younger rivals pop up, or will the Peerless women come back? Whichever way the scoreboards read, I sincerely hope the camaraderie of good sportsmanship prevails, and that the games will be clean and honest.

It has been a busy year, with lots of changes and challenges, but I am sure that it is all in our favor as we continue to grow and become better known to the world of sports.
We welcome aboard the many new faces to the AAAD and hope that your experiences and challenges are pleasant as well as educational ones.

To all of our fans and participants, we of the AAAD are glad to have you here. May your stay be a cool, relaxing and memorable one and may you have a safe journey back

Welcome Fans, Players and Officers!

Thank you very much for being with us! We count on your involvement and participation as well as friendship to kick off our 1989 Deaf Awareness Week (Sept. 24-30, 1989). You helped to show that the deaf people can play sports or enjoy leisure activities just as hearing people do.

This tournament is the perfect way to demonstrate the theme of the Connecticut's Deaf Awareness Week: "EXPANDING YOUR HORIZONS: LEISURE ACTIVITIES FOR THE HEARING IMPAIRED". This demonstration enhances public awareness of our skills in playing sports despite our inability to hear the referees, the fans' shouts or any sounds. We do enjoy receiving awards, prizes and recognition as well as consolation when we lose games.

Let's show the public that we enjoy our '89 AAAD Slo-Pitch Tournament! Share happy memories as well as make new ones! Win or lose — have a great time!

Best Wishes and Good Luck!!

WARMEST GREETINGS FROM THE U.S. TEAM COMMITTEE

It is with great pleasure to extend my warmest welcome to all slo-pitch softball players and sports-minded spectators to Hartford, the home of the first school for the deaf in America.

I know Dennis Palka and his hard-working committee look forward to showing off their talent in being the best host. So let's enjoy the weekend as much as we would like! In addition, I am excited to observe great sportsmanship among many teams in both men and women divisions throughout the weekend.

Now I would like to take this opportunity to announce that there will be U.S. Ski Team Trials in Vail, Colorado in March, 1999 for the upcoming Winter World Games for the Deaf to be held in Banff, Canada in 1991. GREETINGS AND WELCOME TO CONNECTICUT'S CAPITOL!

As the AAAD Men's Basketball/Softball Commissioner, I am pleased to send greetings to everyone attending and participating in the 14th Annual AAAD National Men's and 3rd Annual National Women's Slo-Pitch Softball Tournaments at Hartford, Connecticut.

It is the first time in history that this present AAAD softball tournament is held in the region of New England Athletic Association of the Deaf (NEAAD). The Host Club, Greater Hartford Club of the Deaf (GHCD) is to be congratulated.

I pay my respects to the GHCD members for taking up this tough job. General Chairman Dennis Palka, Co-Chairman James Pedersen and all of the committee deserve merit for leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to make this an enjoyable and well planned event.

Lastly, but not at least I personally want to thank all the AAAD Executive Committee members for permitting the Canadian Men's All-Star team to participate in the AAAD softball tournament on a three year trial basis starting this year.

To each team from all angles of the United States we wish the best of luck in this important sporting event. May the best team win!

WELCOME . . . PLAYERS AND SPORTS FANS

Once again we return to the NEAAD and the great city of Hartford. We have been here before, in 1972, for the National Basketball Championships, and now we are here for the National Softball Championships for both men and women. There is no reason to fear that the tournament will not be a success because the people of Hartford have shown that they know how to put on a great show and how to make their guests feel at home.

I wish to extend my thanks to all the hard working committee people. My thanks also go to all the players and the clubs for supporting their teams. Reaching the national tournament is an honor and a privilege because out of so many fine teams across the United States, only 16 make it to the FINALS. Good luck to all the teams and may the best team win. To the losers, may you show great sportsmanship and courage and try again in the coming years.

Greetings:

It is my pleasure to be with you in Hartford for the AAAD Women's 3rd and Men's 14th Slo-Pitch Softball Tournaments.

Let us all join together to commend Chairman Dennis Feika and his Committee for their tremendous effort to make this tournament a success. Also, we should thank the Greater Hartford Club for the Deaf for their sponsorship of the tournament. As we all know, it is certainly a big job preparing everything in advance for a large affair such as this tournament. Because of their interest for AAAD, we can all be confident that they are leaving no stone unturned in order to insure that this tournament be successful. We should be thankful that everyone who attends, players and spectators alike, shall have a most pleasant and profitable time.

Lastly, let us all continue to keep up our interest in the AAAD. The AAAD will never die as long as there is interest in it on the part of the deaf themselves and I feel very assured that your interest in the AAAC will never die out.

Have fun!

You can take great pride in your participation in this event which not only showcases your athletic talents, but displays your determination not to sit on the sidelines because of your hearing impairment. This tournament stands as a shining example to handicapped persons across the nation that there are no limitations, only challenges. I commend you for meeting that challenge with the spirit of good sportsmanship and fellowship here at this tournament.

Have an enjoyable tournament! May the best team win, as the community of Hartford and Connecticut wins by hosting this very special tournament.

IN MEMORIAM

Joseph Dennis Marino passed away this spring. Affectionately known as "Father of The Hartford Club of The Deaf" — One of the founders — Was an active member — Coach of Softball and Basketball teams — Officer of The Club — President of ASD Alumni Association — Officer of The New England Athletic Association of The Deaf and The Eastern States Athletic Association.

Often helped out to play when his team was short of players despite his age.

Responsible for getting The AAAD Basketball Tourney to Hartford in 1972.

A Graduate of ASD where he was acclaimed to be one of the greatest linemen on ASD football teams.

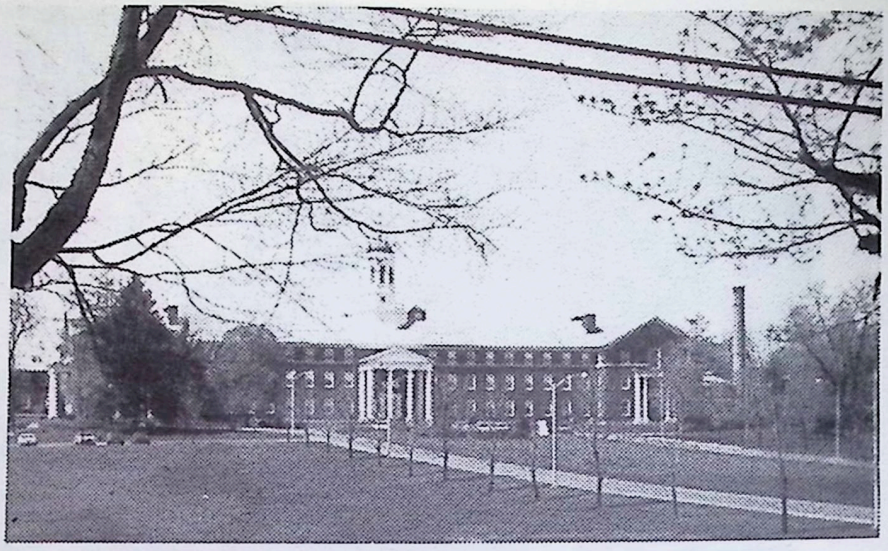
An active member of 10/25 AAAD.

Inducted into NEAAD and AAAD Hall of Fame as The Leader.

Champion by Instinct.

Our sympathies go to his wife, Melva and Daughter, Vickie.

The first deaf school founded in America . . .



In 1807 a prominent Hartford physician, Mason Fitch Cogswell wanted to do something for his two year old daughter, Alice, after she recovered from spinal meningitis but was left deaf. Dr. Cogswell was a man of noble character and compassionate nature and in seeking some way to alleviate the condition of his daughter, he became interested in the cause of the deaf in general. He succeeded in securing the aid of a number of friends, men who were prominent in the affairs of Hartford. In 1812 a survey was made which showed there were 84 deaf persons in the state of Connecticut, none of who had received education. On this basis it was estimated there were at least 400 deaf persons in New England and 2000 in the United States. It was therefore decided to establish a school to teach the deaf of the country.

On April 13, 1815 nine prominent men met at the home of Dr. Cogswell to take steps toward establishing a school. This would take money. They decided to canvass Hartford, then a bustling town of 6000 people. Imagine how delighted the men were when they were able to collect $2,133 from townspeople on one day. With that collection, Hartford became the first American community to establish an organized philanthropy to help the handicapped. It was one of many "firsts" for A.S.D.

At this meeting it was decided to send a representative to England for the purpose of learning the methods of teaching the deaf. There was no one known in the United States who possessed sufficient knowledge of the subject to direct such an undertaking. The mission was offered to Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet, who gladly accepted the task.

No better choice could have been made. Mr. Gallaudet was a graduate of Yale College and of Andover Theological Seminary. He had became deeply interested in the deaf through observing Alice Cogswell as she played with her young relatives. Mr. Gallaudet had made some progress in teaching her written words. By nature he was ideally suited for the task which lay ahead, being possessed of those qualities of patience, gentleness and understanding as well as a brilliant, intellectual with a great zeal to serve the afflicted.

In England Gallaudet met with little success, as the Braidwood School was operated for profit and those in charge were not willing to divulge their methods. Fortunately he was invited to the school in Paris by the kind Abbe Sicard who placed all the facilities of the school at his disposal and helped him in every way possible.

When Gallaudet returned to America, he brought with him a brilliant young Frenchman, Laurent Clerc, who was deaf from infancy, had been educated by Sicard, and he became an instructor in the Paris school. The step was of great importance as Clerc proved to be of invaluable service in establishing the new school.

It took 52 days to reach America by ship. During the long voyage, Clerc taught the minister to sign and fingerspell, and Gallaudet taught the deaf man English.

The school for the deaf was incorporated in May of 1816. In October, the Connecticut General Assembly appropriated $5000 to help get it started. It marked another A.S.D. first, legislation to aid the handicapped in the United States for such purpose.

The school was called the Connecticut Asylum at Hartford for the Instruction of Deaf and Dumb Persons. On April 15, 1817 it opened in the Old City Hotel on Main Street. There were three pupils on the first day and seven by the end of the week, Alice Cogswell was the first pupil and the oldest student was John Brewster, 51, a talented portrait painter who had never been to school. (Brewster is considered one of the great artists of that period.)

The school was successful from the start and grew rapidly. Pupils came from all the New England states and other sections of the country. In 1812 the school was moved to Asylum Hill where it remained for one hundred years, becoming one of the famous landmarks of the city known as the "Old Hartford". At present the school is known as "The American School at Hartford for the Deaf."

Why is "Dummy" Hoy never in Baseball Hall of Fame?

An editorial—Kansas Association of the Deaf

There was an article about William "Dummy" Hoy, a famous deaf professional player between the years of 1886 and 1903 in the October 31, 1988 issue of Sports Illustrated under "perspective" heading. He lost his hearing when he was three years old. He was a graduate of Ohio School for the Deaf in Columbus.

He started his professional baseball career for a minor league team of Oshkosh, Wisc. in 1886. Prior to that, he was the only cobbler in Houcktown, Ohio. He was discovered by a traveler who happened to stop by Houcktown and also happened to see him play baseball. Hoy was then asked whether he would like to play professional ball.

Hoy, who was only 5'4" and weighed 145 pounds, began to play for an Oshkosh professional team for $75 a month. He had started slowly in batting due to inexperience in facing more experienced pitchers of the opposing teams, but he was a slick centerfielder, catching balls "where they ain't".

In the following years, his batting and fielding improved dramatically, there came an offer from a major league team, Washington in 1888.

Over his 14-year major league career he had averaged 43 base steals a year, scored at least 100 runs nine times and this dead-ball era, he had hit 40 homeruns.

At first, umpires used verbal calls of strike and balls, Hoy had to turn his head to find out the calls and the pitchers took advantage, by quick-pitching him before he got ready to take batting stance. He had a third base coach give signals—a strike call by raising his right arm and ball by raising left arm. The umpires eventually began to use the arm raising method to call after the pitch, which is now used by present time umpires, most often by flamboyant styles. Also, Hoy had taught sign language to his team mates and they signed among them on the field, as well as off the field. The sign language led to signaling system, now used by managers, coaches, runners and hitters.

Hoy ended his baseball career in 1903 at the age of 41 with Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast where he had played all of their 211 games with 46 stolen bases and 413 putouts.

He settled in a town near Cincinnati, where he was a dairy farmer with his wife, Anna whom he had married in 1898. She was a teacher of Cincinnati Oral School and Ohio School for the Deaf, Columbus.

He died in December 15, 1961 at the age of 99.

Now since the article from the Sports Illustrated brought back the memory of past accomplishments in the field and off the field by a well-deserved ball player, it also asked why Hoy was never inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame. Furthermore, he was a well-respected man in Ohio.

There has some talk of having Hoy nominated and inducted to the Hall of Fame in some sporting circles. There should be actions from people outside of sporting circles. Hoy should be given serious consideration of being nominated and inducted posthumously to Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, New York.

Look at all the impressive statistics at these times and look at all the changes in the way baseball was being played, such as having umpires calling strikes and balls, by raising arms; breast pockets of the uniforms being outlawed, because of an incident when a ball hit by Hoy landed into the pocket of an outfielder who juggled the ball trying to catch it and signals given by third base coach to the runner on first base and the batter.

A resolution urging Hall of Fame nominating committee to nominate and induct William "Dummy" Hoy posthumously should be brought up at each state association of the deaf convention this coming year and be sent to the Hall of Fame.

National Association of the Deaf should also get into action, by getting Hoy to be nominated and inducted. Deaf and hearing impaired people should be proud of him of what he had done to baseball and to the deaf culture, they also should get into action by sending letters to Hall of Fame.

Let's get on the hard ball rolling now and send letters asking to nominate and induct William "Dummy" Hoy posthumously to Baseball Hall of Fame. He rightly deserved so. The address to send letters is: Baseball Hall of Fame, Selection Committee, Box 590, Cooperstown, New York 13326.

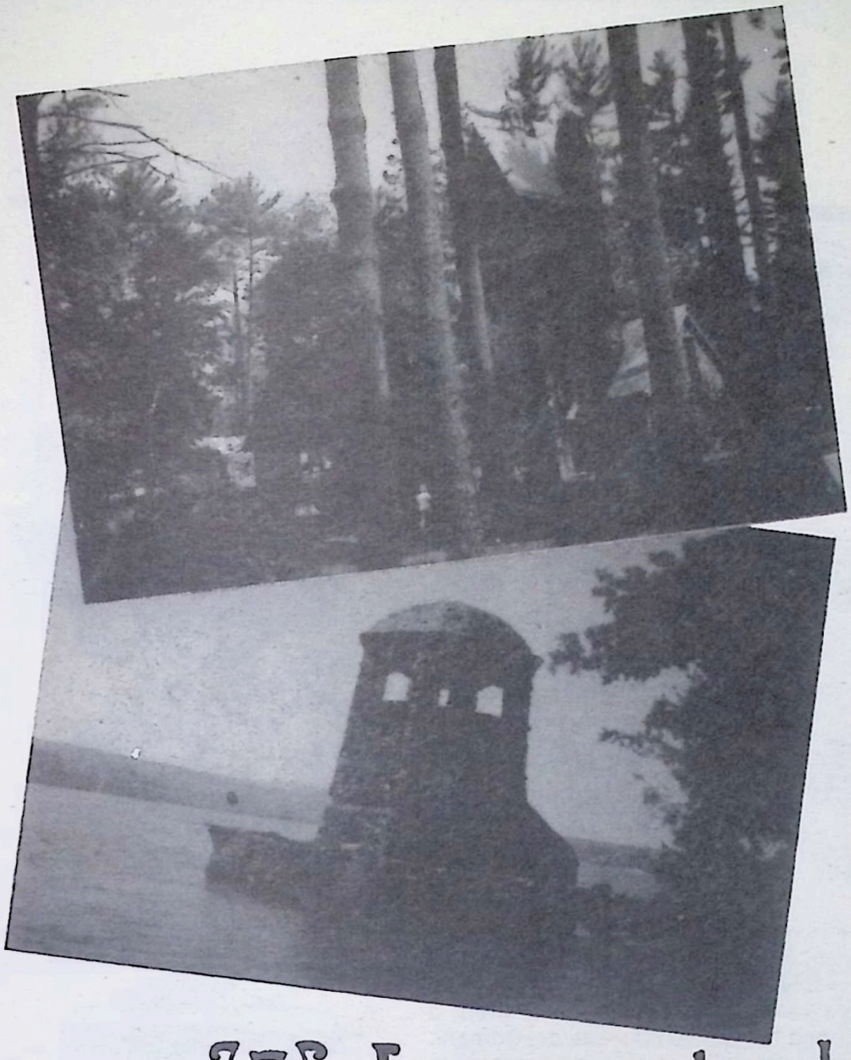
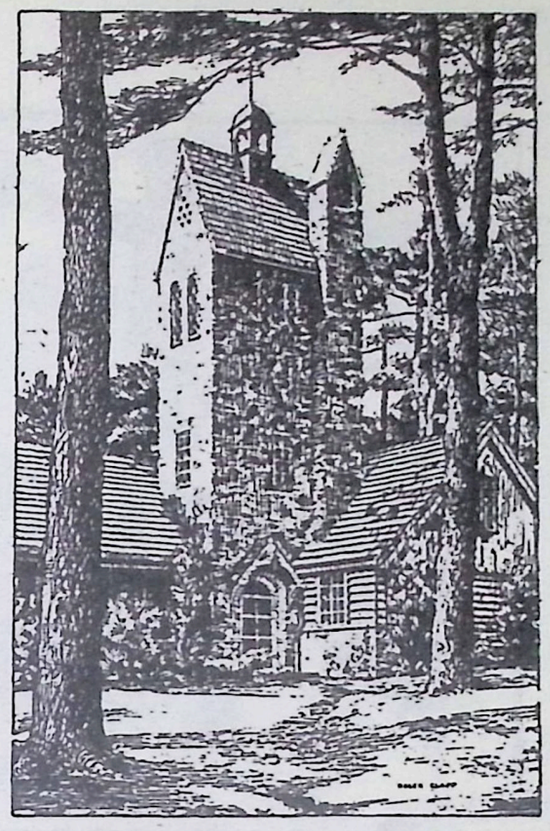
Welcome to Isola Bella





Welcome to Isola Bella

Nestled in the beautiful Berkshire Mountains on Twin Lakes, Salisbury, Connecticut, Isola Bella is a scenic island estate that has been turned into a summer adventure for deaf children.

Isola Bella was bequeathed to the school by the late Ferrari Ward. Both Muriel and Ferrari Ward were members of the ASD Board of Directors. Mrs. Muriel Alvord Ward, was the first woman to serve on the board of directors.

The Alvord family, purchased the twenty-nine acre island in 1906. John Alvord, Mrs. Ward's uncle, bequeathed the island to her and in the 1930's Muriel Alvord Ward moved there with her parents. Upon her death in 1960, her husband chose the American School as beneficiary of the island.

The island's famous landmark, its stone tower, was built by Mrs, Ward's uncle, John Alvord, in 1913. Rocks from the island were collected for its construction.

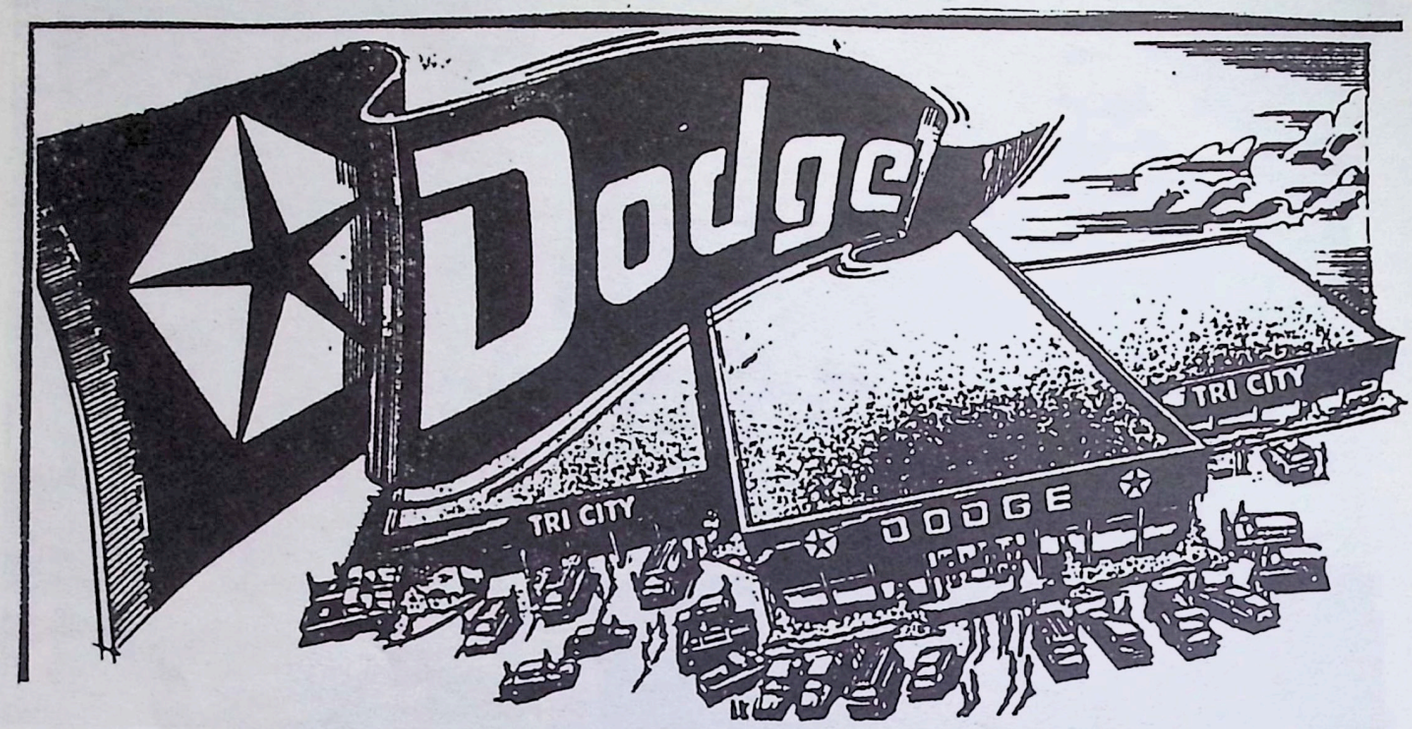
The first house, built in 1930, now the Camp Houses, is used as a dining/kitchen facility, infirmary and for staff sleeping quarters. This twelve room Modern Gothic style mansion has a stone steeple three stories high. In the 45 x 20 foot living room with two massive fireplaces are fresco paintings over the mantles done by a German artist brought to the island from New York. The windows have small inserts containing the Alvord family crest and other decorations. On the roof is a sundial weighing over 500 lbs. Its patio has a small pool where Mrs. Alvord once kept goldfish.

It is hard to imagine that this massive building was constructed with materials brought to the island, piece by piece, by boat. It was not until 1933 that a causeway and underwater electric wires were installed by the family.

After a new house was completed on the eastern part of the island, the old one was closed. It was not used again until 1963, when the American School established its summer camp for deaf children. Today, in its dining room, hung side by side with the elegant frescos, are handmade wooden plaques crafted by the students, who carved their names on them in memory of happy summer days. The school has built rustic cabins that sleep ten and also added buildings for lavatories and showers.

Through this wonderful gift, the American School became the United States' first school for the deaf to offer a summer program for students who are hearing impaired, and is the only residential camp for deaf children in southern New England. The program is run on a cost basis, with only slight charge to parents. Those ASD students who cannot afford tuition may receive campership through the generosity of friends of the American School.

Turning from the main road into the Isola Bella entrance, one passes a well-kept playground. A long dirt road bends through stands of lacy weeping willows, pristine birch and dark pine. Suddenly through the trees, one gets a breathtaking view of Twin Lakes, Isola Bella and its connecting causeway, so eagerly crossed by so many deaf children thanks to the generosity of Muriel and Ferrari Ward.



We invite you to come in and see our line of quality Dodge cars, trucks and imports and experience the new spirit of Dodge. We're looking forward to serving you for years to come and to make sure we do, we're offering great deals, a well-trained sales staff and an excellent service department.
